Beginnings

In 1998, God brought a couple of guys together in Millet that had been hosting music outreach ministry for a number of years. They gathered together a group of interested folks that tapped into our treasure chest of Country Gospel artists. And so Concert in The Country was birthed with the first concerts being held outdoors at "The Bowl" in August 1999. Because of our unpredictable weather and of course those pesky mosquitoes, The Town of Millet and The Ag Society generously made the Millet Agriplex available.

Our mission is to present the gospel and teachings of Jesus Christ through word and song so that all people may be strengthened in their walk with Jesus Christ.

Our ministry is a faith ministry depending on the generous free-will offerings and contributions of all those who attend our concerts as well as the love and commitment of our many volunteers and sponsors. We trust that these offerings will enable us to cover our costs and provide opportunities for future ministries.

Our 2017 festival is a three-day event in which we invite a number of artists to come and share with us the talents that God has so graciously given them.

Millet, Alberta – Agriplex

Keepers of the Faith (Puyallup, WA, USA)

Keepers of the Faith quartet is made up of four male vocalists who love to serve God with their music. The group consists of Lima Taito, Agaese Taito, Mason Mataele and Kevin Mills. Keepers of the Faith is one of the more diverse Southern Gospel quartets you'll ever hear. That diversity is very evident in their unique style. Keepers of the Faith brings a Pacific Islands flavor, with the souls of saved men, to the genre of Southern Gospel Quartet Music. Keepers of the Faith has been in ministry for over 15 years. The ministry started out as a prison ministry team. Keepers of the Faith is now a renowned gospel quartet who are touring and living to the standard of their name.

Potter's Clay Quartet (Trochu, AB)

Potter's Clay is a Southern Gospel group that began in the late sixties by two teenage boys.

The group went through many phases over time, and in 1986 began singing regularly as a trio named "Potter's Clay". Soon after, a bass singer joined and Potter's Clay became a quartet.

Over the years members have changed, but the message is still the same.

Naomi Striemer (Nashville, TN, USA)

Naomi Striemer (born October 6, 1982) is a Canadian-American singer. Born in upstate New York but raised on a secluded farm in a conservative Christian home in rural Nova Scotia, Canada, Naomi was homeschooled and void of any media influences until the age of 10. She sang from the time she was a young child. Following early success with secular, she has turned her attention to Christian songwriting and singing.

Naomi Striemer is a critically acclaimed, chart topping, singer-songwriter, renowned speaker and Best-Selling author.

Naomi Striemer has been nominated for multiple Christian music awards, received CCM radio chart success and has written a best-selling book titled 'Backstage Pass' which documents her journey from the world of pop music to Christian music ministry. She can be found touring the world, with concerts and special speaking engagements.

The Johnson Family (Bonnyville, AB)

Probably the biggest difference between the Ben Johnson Family and other singing groups are the ages of their members! They have 3 children (ages 12-18), who participate as full band members. Micah, starting at only age 6 has developed into quite an impressive musician, playing lead parts on mandolin & guitar. Matthias at age 18 sings the lead and bass parts as well as playing the bass guitar. Jubilee, being the youngest, still steals hearts with her singing & stage presence.

Strong Sunday (St Albert, AB)

STRONG SUNDAY is a new youth band out of St. Albert, Alberta.

Their mission is to inspire people of all ages to seek a closer relationship with Christ through contemporary Christian music.

They enjoy putting their twist on traditional favourites as well bringing audiences new Christian music.
